1. Agate Fossil Bed National Monument
   Become a Junior Ranger! Stop by the Visitor Center. Hike the Daemonelix Trail and and look over the Agate Springs Ranch and have a picnic. Examine the tipis nearby!

2. Fort Robinson State Park
   Learn about history in the Adobe Officer’s Quarters and the Fort Robinson Museum. Go fishing, biking or hike some of the many trails. Watch for bison and spend the night camping.

3. Lake McConaughy State Park
   Explore the historical exhibits at the park. Go bird watching, fishing or swimming and build sand castles. Camp overnight.

4. Arbor Lodge
   Go to the monument and check out the Suare’s Whispering Bench where you can whisper to someone 50 feet away! Visit the Arboretum, tour the Arbor Lodge and check out the horse-drawn carriages in the barn.

5. Buddy Bison’s Fact Bites!
   - The state used to be known as the “Tree Planter’s State” but the nickname was changed in 1945 to the “Cornhusker State”.
   - The Nebraska National Forest is the largest hand-planted forest in the United States and spans 141,549 acres.
   - Hebron is home to the World’s Largest Porch Swing. The 32 feet long seat can hold nearly 25 people!
   - The very first Arbor Day was celebrated in Nebraska City. About 1 million trees were planted!

6. Homestead National Monument
   Become a Junior Ranger! Explore the Palmer-Epard Cabin and the Freeman School then hike the Woodland Loop Walking Trail.

7. Indian Cave State Park
   Go hiking and look for woodland birds, flying squirrels and wildflowers. Enjoy a picnic or have fun on the playground. Participate in living history exhibits.